This Certificate in Teaching Observation is delivered by THE TESOL COLLEGE from the UK as an online course.

Introduction

This short course is designed to test the ability of a trainee or holder of a pre-service TESOL/TEFL qualification or a practising teacher of English to bring their knowledge and skills together in observing and assessing teaching. Remote observation via video is used, allowing convenience for participants and being especially appropriate in this era of school lockdowns due to the Covid-19 pandemic. Issues within the observed teaching are raised and the candidates for this award are required to comment on these issues, reflecting and writing from what they are learning or have learnt of TESOL theory, methodologies, techniques and language awareness. Candidates are encouraged to bring their own knowledge, skills and experiences to bear.

The award provides a useful addition to a TESOL/TEFL qualification that has leaned more towards theory than observed classroom practice.

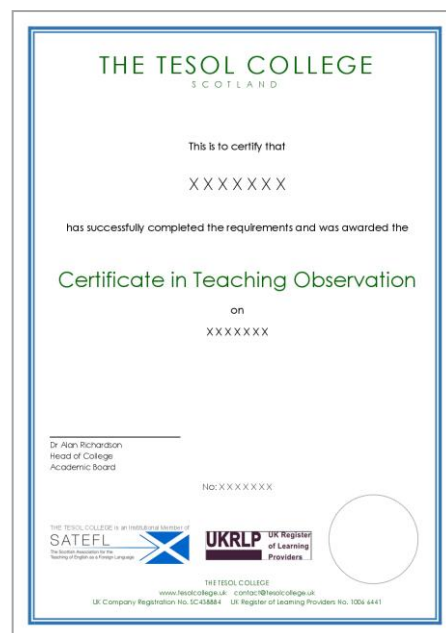

Our Certificate in Teaching Observation holders have a wide spread of nationalities, being from America, Australia, Britain, Singapore, Brazil, China, India, Bangladesh, Japan, Korea, Malaysia, Myanmar, Indonesia, Italy, the Philippines, Iran, Mongolia and Vietnam.

The aim of the course is to allow trainees or holders of TESOL/TEFL English teaching qualifications or practising English teachers to demonstrate their ability to observe teaching from an informed standpoint, commenting on a wide range of issues from the theory and practice of ELT.
